WE hear that a contract, amounting to nearly Tls. 18,000, has been signed between the Pootung Dock Company and Messrs S. C. Farnham & Co., for the reconstruction of the collapsed upper Wharf and Bund and the strengthening of the lower Bund. Part of the arrangement, we understand, is that the Dook Co. shall at once commence another lawsuit to settle the question of liability, while Messrs Farnham & Co. will institute a cross-action for damages .- N.-C. A very unique marriage was celebrated in Squire Hauser's Office recently (says the Cincinnati Enquirer) -the Squire officiating. The bride was Miss Jessie Trooger, who lives at the corner of Main Street and M'Micken Avenue. She obtained some celebrity two years ago by leading a strike of the waitresses in Rockwell's restaurant. She is 20 years old. The groom was Charles K. Adams, better known in Wonder, He was born without those useful members of the body, and in lieu of a better and more profitable means of livelihood, hired himself out to dime musoums. Adams is now about 30 years of age, and barring the lack of arms is a fine specimen of physical beauty. The absence is little felt by the Wonder, however, for he has become very expert with his toes and mouth. He can thread a needle or write a neat letter with the former, while with the latter he paints dainty little pictures, decorates chinaware, &c, holding the between his teeth. When the couple entered the 'Squire's office and said they wanted to be united in wedlack, that official was perplexed for a while. ' How can you join hands? he asked blandly, pointing to Adams. 'Oh, that is easy enough, said the pretty bride who stood fully three heads shorter than the groom, and she reached up and grasped the stump of his undeveloped left arm with her right hand. 'See, she said, as she stood smiling on her tiptoes. But the ring. How can he put the marriage ring on your finger? In this way, 'said Adams; and the astonished officials in the 'Squire's court were thunderstruck to see the circlet of gold between the armless man's teeth. Bending his head he deftly slipped it over the girl's finger. Satisfied that the couple understood their business, the Squire went ahead and performed the coremony. After being made man and wife Adams sat down and alipping the shoe off his foot, disclosing a stocking with the front of the foot cut off, he reached into his vest pocket with his toes and brought out a roll of bills. Selecting a five-dollar note he entered it as a fee, and putting on his shoe went away, his little wife sticking close to him.

FRAGRANT WATERS' MURMUR That the Sanitary Board again almost monopolises the talk of the week.

That it must be conceded that the purity of The Pokfulam water, the disposal of the City refuse, and the challenging by Meesrs Danby & Leigh of the action of the Sanitary Surveyor, are subjects of vital importance.

That it may be remarked that Mr Humphreys' remarks on the weather must have greatly displeased the Clerk thoroof, as it rained very heavily and steadily after the last meeting. That the members will do well to speak guardedly spon such matters, and save us from such visitations.

That it was pleasant to observe the frank manner in which the Surveyor General as President of the Board, expressed his conviction that the polluters of the Pokfulam reservoir should be warned and then prosecuted. That as the Government will thus have to begin by prosecution and puni hing itself, the example will be most beneficial to all private offenders and the President of the Board will necessarily have to appear against the Surveyor General, who is the greatest offender of all. That an appropriate sentence which might be passed upon the Hon. S. Brown would be. Don't do it again, and you are discharged on condition that you produce the plane, and complete the filter-beds in air months.'

That, so far as the Board is concerned, it refuses to be a Burial or a Crematory Board, and the City refuse has simply to be removed beyond the limits.

THE CHINESE RENDITION CASE.

MB ROBINSON'S DECISION. The following is Mr Robinson's decision given yestorday afternoon in the case which the Chinese Government applied for the rendition of a Chinese subject on charge of highway robbery, alleged to have been committed near Sam-shui-po.

The case is a peculiar one. The rendition of two men was applied for by the Chinese authorities, but one of the two was discharged shortly after proceedings had been commenced, on the ground that there was no evidence against him. Both men had previously been arrested in tich territory by Chinese officers and were taken to Canton, and were afterwards handed over to the Hongkong Police on the demand of the Home Government. His Worship said -- In this case the rendition of the defendant is claimed by the Chiness Government. The defendant is charged that he is a subject of China and that on 5th January last he committed a highway robbery at a place in Chinese territory not for from Sam-shui-po upon the person one Tang Shi Cho and robbed him of twenty taels, his property. The proper oreliminaries having taken place, I am resuired under Ordinance 2 of 1850 and Orlinance 2 of 1871 to investigate this charge. The first point for investigation-is that of sufficient. There is the direct statement of name of which I forget at this moment, and there is in corroboration the fact that he speaks the language and that his dress and appearance indicate the same nationatv. All these taken together constitute. think, sufficient evidence as to nationality, especially as there is not the elightest evidence in contradiction. I have excluded from the grounds of my opinion the evidence of the turnkey on this point not being perfectly sure whether it is strictly admissible. The next point to consider is whether there is probable cause for believing that the crime has been committed. whether I am satisfied on investigation that the crime has been committed. Upon that point I feel satisfied also. It was contended for the prisoner that probably the whole transaction was bogus, but taking the evidence of Dr Tang to be on the whole honest and accurate. I see no reason to doubt that he was the victim of a highway robbery at the time and place and substantially in the manner he describes. His evidence strikes me as being on the whole honest and accurate, although it is true that, like most Chinese witnesses I suppose, he is not above prevarication, and the evidence of where he says 'neither of the Mandarins (meaning the Mandarins at Sam-shui-po this charge against the defendant,' whereas in cross-examination, in answer to the Court. some days later, he says, 'I was sent for to his Yamen (meaning the Yamen of the Mandarin at Sam-shui-po) and was there talking with the Mandarin for I should say, an hour. The conversation was substantially to the effect that the thief was in Hongkoug and I was to go there to give evidence against him. I objected that it would interfere with my business, and he said "You have already petitioned me in this case and you ' I don't say there is anything wrong in the transaction, but there as said, is evidence of prevarication. At the same time I believe his statements in the main to be substantially honest, and accurate. So much for the crime. may say also that Dr Tang does not pretend to identify the prisoner. He does seriously say that he had an opportunity of areing him at all. He thinks he is the man, and in court after he was put with a number of other men he pointed out the defendant, but against that there must be taken this fact that the man had been standing in the dock with another during the long period that the witness was under examination. The witness, when asked whether he had seen the defendant, dues not at once identify him. I am inclined to think that was a little piece of prevarication too. At any rate, when other men were put no importance whatever to that identification. He himself admits he had not a fair opportunity of seeing the man on January The question of identification is the question in the case, and that depends on one single witness, the man Lam Ngai. Now apart from the question of identification. Lam Ngai is not in my opinion so satisfactory a witness as Dr Tang, but still taking the two together, I am not prepared to say that Lam Ngal was not on the spot on the day in question. He swears that he was and I am not prepared to disbelieve him. He is corroborated by Dr Tang, and I am not prepar d to disbelieve these two men, he may still have been there and yet not $258, and here he wanted to make out that be able to identify the accused If I accepted his statement at all there would be next to no doubt about the case. According to his statement in chief, he was behind a rock at a distance of some fifty English feet from where the robbery took place, and it was from that point that he was able to see the face of the accused. The face of the accused is a face that might be remembered having once been also, and here there is a slight discrepancy, he is very familiar with the face, although stands: if I accept his statement, there is other view of the case which was urged really comes along not at the time of the quite sufficient reason to believe that he could identify him. Then there is the upon me for the defence, that the manrobbery but just afterwards. But for the cross-examination and the statement made he intended to repudiate these shares and in cross-examination by this witness on the That duty of this description rarely fails in would not take them up.
